A CITY IN ONE SQUARE

Why wander across a whole city, when one square can tell you so much?

Meet our volunteer tour guides at Centenary Square for Roundhouse Birmingham's first walking tour. We'll be heading to the Roundhouse via artworks and architecture, through a space that's always changing; unlocking stories of the city and its people along the way...

Our guides are presenting the city that they love, so prepare to find out some lesser known stories, and some essential Brummie knowledge, take part in a few activities and engage in a bit of friendly debate. Check the weather, stretch your legs, and bring an inquisitive disposition. See you there!

ON THE DAY

- Meet your tour guides in Centenary Square, they'll be waiting by the Commonwealth Games clock in the centre of the square 15 minutes before your tour's start time. Location on What3Words.com is ///leader.oddly.groups
- If you have any issues finding our guides or are running late, call the Roundhouse Duty Manager on 07519 944110 and we'll let your guide know.
- Make sure to keep an eye on the weather forecast as the tour is mostly outside; so prepare for the sun or the rain.
- It's quite noisy in the city, so we use a tour guide audio system to ensure everyone can hear. We will have enough disposable earphones for the group, but for we'd like to limit the amount of disposables that we use. Please do bring along your own headphones if you have them. You'll need headphones with standard "mini-jack" connection, as pictured.

ACCESSIBILITY

Some information around accessibility for your walking tour:

Hearing induction loop. Our tour guide system has an induction loop option which is compatible with analogue and digital hearing aids when set to "T". Let us know if there are members of the group that would like to use these.

The route has been designed to be free of steps and slopes prior to arriving at the Roundhouse.

When you arrive at the Roundhouse, the cobbled courtyard is quite steep and a little uneven in places. Please make sure to wear sensible footwear.
